

Date: 28 /01/2019

NOTICE

All the students of B Pharm II year (Sem-IV) are hereby informed that Pharmacology department is going to organize one week "Certificate Course of Techniques Used in Preclinical Research" at our institute. Interested student do the registration on or before up to 31/01/2019 and submit towards pharmacology department at 5.00 pm.

Take a note of it.

Program Coordinator

Mr. M. N. Deokar

Principal

Dr. S. P. Jain

Principal
Rajarshi Shahu College of Pharmacy
Malvihi, Buldana.

Rajarshi Shahu College of Pharmacy, Botha Road, Malvihir, Buldhana- 443001

Department of Pharmacology

Organized

Certificate Course of Techniques Used in Preclinical Research

Certificate Course CO
Course Outcome	Description/Statement
	Upon completion of this course my student should be able to :-
CO1	To learn and acquire basic knowledge about preclinical research
CO2	To identify, characterize all toxicities as well as evaluation of safety and efficacy of drugs
CO3	To create awareness amongst students about CPCSEA guidelines and its requirement for IAEC
CO4	To gained the knowledge and proficiency using actual animal models used in preclinical research
CO5	To trained the students for techniques and skill used for animal handling and drug administration in experimental animals

Coordinator
Mr. M. N. Deokar

Principal
Dr. S. P. Jain
Principal
Rajarshi Shahu College of Pharmacy
Malvihir, Buldhana.